Reviews

Completely essential read publication. It is really basic but excitement in the fifty percent of the book. You will not really feel monotony at anytime of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for about in the event you ask me).

General Accounting Office, 2003 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)53041831 Subject: Local service airlines -- United States -- Finance. Excerpt: . . . of one other airport in the United States that provides these services for an airline. Baker City, Oregon, received a grant of 300, 000 to invest in an air taxi franchise. Baker City has a small population and is in a fairly remote part of Oregon that does not have scheduled airline service. The community decided to pursue an alternative to scheduled service and purchased an air taxi franchise from SkyTaxi, a company that provides on-demand air service. Casper, Wyoming, received a grant of 500, 000 to purchase and lease back an aircraft to an airline to ensure that the airline serves the community. It is fairly unusual for a community to approach air service development by purchasing an aircraft to help defray some of the airlines costs and mitigate some of the airlines risk in providing the service. However, the majority of these grants funded the same types of projects discussed earlier - studies of a communitys potential market, marketing activities to stimulate demand for service or to lure an airline, and financial incentives such as subsidies to airlines for providing service. If these communities experience the same results as the other state and local efforts we identified, their efforts are unlikely to attract new or enhanced service for the small communities using them, or if they do, the service will only last as long as these funds are available. Since final grant agreements were signed in December 2002, it is too early to determine how effective the various types of initiatives might prove to be. Additionally,...
