Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Do you believe aliens created the human race? Don t believe in alien intervention? Read the book and see the evidence for yourself. Legacy of the Gods will make you rethink what you think you know. The human race has altered the evolutionary process of apples, tomatoes, rice, corn, and nearly every food we eat today. (genetically modified) We have genetically modified mammals from mice to cats, and dogs. We have genetically modified livestock, including goats, pigs, and cattle. The most important genetic modification in an animal so far was done in a Japanese lab in 2009. The Japanese scientists successfully altered the genes of the primate species marmosets. This is what was done to our primate ancestors more than 200,000 years ago. We have changed or manipulated the D.N.A. of living plants, and animals in labs around the world. The manipulation of the natural evolutionary process of lower life forms on our planet has not always been to enhance our food supply. This research is sometimes simply just that, scientific research. So why is it so hard to believe that an Alien race may have altered our evolution when we are doing the exact same thing today in the name of science? The belief in an invisible magical super being we call God, or the belief in a more advanced species of mammals, similar to us, from one of the countless other planets in the universe. A fresh look at an old question. Who created the human race? A magical invisible God, or a touchable living creature? Hundreds of quotes from the Holy Bible, ancient Sumerian, Egyptian, and Indian text. With 100 photos to illustrate the authors view...
